The Martha Washington Inn

Come join the Wohlfahrt Haus family in an unforgettable celebration! This original revue, conceived by our Artistic Director, Michael Stanek, features holiday songs and dance favorites from traditional to contemporary. Don't miss this Wohlfahrt Haus tradition, and make "Christmas in the Mountains" #1 on your 'to do' list this holiday season!

Travel to Virginia for a delightful weekend getaway! We'll travel first to Wytheville to enjoy The Wohlfahrt Haus Dinner Theatre's special performance of "Christmas in the Mountains"! We will spend the night at the nearby Hampton Inn and continue to Abingdon on Saturday. It is only a short drive and we will arrive in time for a tour of the hotel and lunch on our own before checking into The Martha Washington Inn, a 4 Star/4 Diamond resort located right across from the Barter Theater. Nestled in the Blue Ridge Highlands of Southwest Virginia, The Martha Washington Inn is located in the heart of Abingdon's historic district, and offers antique furnishings, fine dining, intimate parlors and the utmost in Southern hospitality. Originally built in 1832 as a private mansion, "The Martha" opened as one of Virginia's finest hotels in 1935. Today it still provides an ambiance of understated Southern charm and is a memorable experience for its guests. You will especially enjoy a spectacular performance at The Barter Theatre, just across the street. We know you will love the old favorite, "It's A Wonderful Night." The decanter of brandy awaiting you in the library at 'The Martha' will help take away the chill, too! What a wonderful way to start the holiday season!! On the way home, we will stop in Greensboro for dinner at The Barn Dinner Theatre, followed by their Christmas production, "Christmas with Elvis!" We may even have time for a Christmas surprise!!
