

CAROLINA TOURS
PRESENTS...

Little Switzerland!

July 23-25, 2012

Little Switzerland, NC, is a summer colony high in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The elevations here, ranging from 3200 feet in the village to 4000 feet at the top of Grassy Mountain, offer incredible views of Mt. Mitchell to the west, Table Rock, Hawksbill and Grandfather Mountain to the east, and the valleys of the South Toe, Turkey Cove and the bustling Catawba Valley. Little Switzerland was named because of its sweeping panoramas of deep valleys and distant ranges resembling those of the foothills of the Swiss Alps.

On this tour we will travel first to Boone, NC, for lunch at the Daniel Boone Inn, shopping on Main Street and a visit to Blowing Rock. Next, it is on to our destination for the next 2 nights, the Little Switzerland Inn. On the Blue Ridge Parkway between North Carolina's Mt. Mitchell (the tallest peak east of the Rockies) and Grandfather Mountain (with the mile-high swinging bridge), the Switzerland Inn has delighted visitors since 1910 with its fantastic mountain views and easy access to NC's Blue Ridge Parkway. While there we will enjoy a tour of the area and a special presentation by our local guide. Another highlight of our tour will be Emerald Village...come find an emerald!

You'll delight in this special time we will spend in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina!
